You Have Given Me . . .

Strength to know myself
Hope that my life could be better
Kindness when I was hurting
Refuge when I was frightened
Solace for my grief
Faith when I despaired
Options when I felt trapped
Comfort when I was alone
Understanding when I was confused
Challenge for me to change
Patience when I balked
Support when I tried
Acceptance when I failed
Encouragement to go on
Warmth to sustain me
Insight to better comprehend
Knowledge for growth
Recognition of my accomplishments
Guidance toward higher goals

And through all of these,
An example that will sustain and nurture the person I am becoming.

-Sharon Crist

It has been said that it is extremely difficult to express gratitude to those individuals to whom we are most thankful. Our parents are such individuals to whom the mere words "Thank You" do not suffice. But then again, how could they?

How can we possible show our appreciation to you Mom and Dad for making the continuation of our education a reality and not just a dream? For without your support, encouragement, and financial assistance, our experience at Regis would not have been possible.

How can we express gratitude to you for always being there in good times as well as in bad, offering open arms, open hearts, and open minds, when others were quick to turn and judge us?

How can we possibly thank you for all that you have given us; strength, hope, understanding, challenge, patience, and guidance-all of which have helped in shaping the individuals we are today?

We cannot! What we have chosen to do as an expression of our deep appreciation is to dedicate our yearbook to you, our parents. For all that you are, all that you have been, all that you will continue to be, but most importantly, for all that you have given us, we thank you and we love you.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Your 1989 Yearbook looks back to our heritage and forward to how you, the Class of 1989, will carry that heritage to the future.

The concept of Regis as a college for leadership and sevice is caught with imagination and conviction as you reflect on the symbolism of the Regis Tower over the 62 years of Regis' young life. I'd like to develop that theme from the perspective of our founding spirit.

The dream of Mother Domitilla was to found a college by women for the education of women, to give each qualified student every opportunity for a life of intellectual rigor, for growth in leadership, for a full understanding of what it means to be a woman, and for some kind of service to the rest of society. Thus, from the College's beginning, there has been a concern for and a commitment to educational opportunities for any qualified woman. There has been the basic assumption that women are capable of leadership in whatever fields their gifts and aptitudes should lead them. There has been concern for "balance", a focus on the total person, and a striving to develop fully all potentials of being human.

The key question at Regis is how does one "teach" leadership? We will know whether Regis has found a way to "teach" it when we see whether you take you place in greater numbers in leadership positions. We will know how well Regis teaches leadership if your potential for solving problems, and getting things done, is brought to the marketplace in ways different from that of men. We will know how successful we are if you put forth new enriched patterns for decision-making, and if you offer alternate, relational rather than competitive ways of accomplishing your goals.

Through the years Regis has been committed to the value of human service in such projects as the nationally recognized program of the Lay Apostolate in the 50's and 60's, and the regionally acclaimed Spanish Institute in the ideals to reality. Regis women have always demonstrated an altruistic spirit. Your challeng is to discern how that spirit is to be directed to meet the incredible needs of the world that is yours.

If Regis has "taught" you anything of leadership and service, you will be able to bring to your corner of the world a genius for responding with intelligence and integrity, with generosity and compassion, to the complex situations of an increasingly complex world.

These are some of the ways that I see you as an embodiment of the tower that you love so much. As you claim the Regis Tower as special to your class, Regis claims you as young women of strength, of endurance and of fortitude.

Sincerely,

Sister Therese Higgins, CSJ

President

THEME

Though nothing can bring back the hour
Of splendour in the grass,
Of glory in the flower;
We will grieve not, rather find
Strength in what remains behind; . . .

-William Wordsworth

Symbols touch us — move and change us. The Norman Tower is such a symbol for Regis women. It means many things to many people, but it will be for us forever Regis. It appears on official mail, school I.D. cards, and bulletin boards. We hear its music at noon, see it from Wellesley Street, and sit in its presence at Convocation, Cap and Gown, and will again at Commencement.

Eighty years ago Mrs. Morrison ordered this tower's construction after viewing another at Chatres used by feudal lords of protection. Then our Norman Tower served practical purposes. It originally housed a water tank and later became an observation post during World War II. It never served as protection as the original had, but as class after class studied and grew in its shadow, the Tower became our symbol, our icon. It embodied our traditions. The years passed and the Tower is here.

Before we, the Class of 1989 walk away from the Tower, we turn to admire its architecture and our own. As a whole it is the sum of its parts, a noble structure composed of similar but individual stones. The Class of 1989, also the sum of its parts, is whole because of each woman who chose to become a part of it.

The Class of 1989 embraces the Tower as our theme. It represents innovation and progress. We are akin to its composition and legacy. This class inevitably returns to tradition while striving to profess individuality. We adopted the first yearbook's title, the Regis Tower, and we reinstated the original cover. We are innovative, yet traditional. We have not been inspired by an ivory tower, but a tower of stone. This Tower is an example of our own endurance, strength, and fortitude. The Tower was made in the image of another. We follow the graduates before us. The Norman Tower is unique. We are like no others.

The Class of 1989 is a product of our times. This year marks the end of a decade of change. A decade when AIDS made society question its behavior, when the Iran/Contra scandal and Wall Street fraud forced us to scrutinize our moral behavior and situational ethics. This Regis class, in our own return to tradition, recalls the pioneer class of 1931, who offered the original Regis Tower as the "first milestone" in the name of "progress." Their foreword read "Within our hearts we, eldest daughters of Regis, shrine her heritage of wisdom and of beauty." They asked that the Regis yearbook "breathe the striving for perfection that has been the keynote of her teaching." As we help to transform our world, we share the hopes of those first graduates.

Critics may claim our society, or our class, retreats to a simpler time, when ideals and standards were not as complex. We prefer to say we have come full circle. We are a product of our times. We are innovative, yet traditional. Every spring a flower blooms and then fades into the cycles of the seasons. It is understood that its beauty will return again after the thaw. The Class of 1989 blossoms, traditionally, as did the Class of 1931, in the presence of the Tower. We have survived the turbulent winter of our growth, our diverse times, and we will work to change our world while maintaining the admirable qualities of those before us. The years will pass. The Tower will be here.

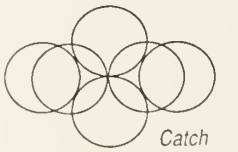
Orientation

The traditional freshmen orientation took place on Labor Day Weekend 1988. Led by Therese Lenox and Eileen Fahey, the spirited, sixty upperclassmen welcomed, moved, and challenged the newest members of the Regis community "not to walk in anyone's shadow." The inspirational words of Whitney Houston took on new meaning at meetings and activities. The song was probably the most appropriate theme ever because the dedication and caring fostered by the Orientation '88 volunteers is truly "The Greatest Love of All."

I DECIDED LONG AGO NEVER TO WALK IN ANYONE'S SHADOW
IF I FAIL, IF I SUCCEED, AT LEAST I'LL LIVE AS I BELIEVE

CONVOCATION DAY



"Catch the Spirit!" So challenged the theme of Convocation 1988 and in fact it was easy to do. As Regis instituted its new vision entailing the developement of the person as a whole, implementing the Life Quality Advisory Board, and inviting exciting speakers such as Dr. Carol Gilligan to address the community, we did catch the spirit, and we held on. S. Therese Higgins outlined the program of wellness in her convocation address, encouraging all of us to develop emotionally, occupationally, physically, spiritually, socially, and intellectually in order that no part of our being is empty or unfulfilled. Convocation 1988 sparked an exciting beginning to a memorable year at Regis, one the seniors especially will never forget.

Catch The Spirit

RING CEREMONY

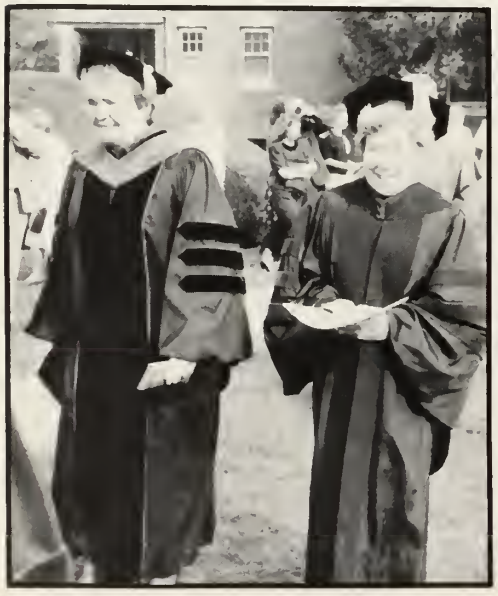
The most cherished tradition of junior year is the Junior Ring Ceremony. Excited and anticipatory, the Class of 1989 filed past our family, friends, and faculty, into the chapel to receive our class rings. Whether we had chosen the traditional onyx or the faceted garnet, set it in silver or gold, everyone in our class realized the significance of this special ring. As an symbol, it will always remind us of our special place at Regis. Within it, our initials make it ours alone. On its sides, the college seal and the Norman Tower link us to every graduate of Regis. The year of graduation tells everyone we are a member of the Class of 1989, a class rich in tradition, built on individuality.

September 1987

Senior Cap And Gown Ceremony

"... Regis College offers us so much. Let us each determine to make the very most of the remainder of our time here, by allowing ourselves to participate in every aspect of Regis ... to fully develop each aspect of ourselves ... to become the whole person that we are capable of becoming ... I invite you to become more a part of our class, I challenge you to become a part of our school, and I dare you to catch the spirit that is Regis College."

-Mary McSoley
Class President



Mother-Daughter Dinner

Early in November a cherished Regis tradition takes place between some very special women, Regis students and their mothers. This year was no exception. The sixteenth annual Mother-Daughter Banquet was held November 4, 1988 at the Newton-Marriot. Dinner and music, coupled with entertaiment and sprinkled with laughter make for an evening that daughters and Moms can remember forever.

12

Father-Daughter Dinner

Each year Regis students anticipate the evening in March when they will be escorted for dinner and dancing by some extraordinary gentlemen, their Dads. Held at Lantana's, the annual Father-Daughter Banquet has become a favorite Regis tradition. For the underclassmen it is a night to remember with fondness. For the seniors, it is a special way to say "Thanks Dad, I love you."

REGIS TOWER HISTORY: 1931

Tower Song

The tower stands guard on the hilltop
The skies are blue above.
Hearts are strong in friendship true,
At Regis the college we love.
There day by day we're learning,
The truths and the glories of life,
And daily we're forming higher ideals,
To aid in the future's strife.
Alma Mater tells us, "Be Faityful
Be True through all the years,"
And the whispering poplars repeat it
Soft in our eager ears.
And then in the flaming sunset,
We see the Crimson and Gold,
Telling of our love for Regis,
Of intensity untold.

R.S. 1931

Baccalaureate Hymn

The road that leads beyond your gates away
Is beck'ning us, dear Regis, to a life
Both new and strange; it brightly lures us on,
And offers to our strength its joy and strife.
High o'er your portals carved, in our hearts rings
That motto bright that speaks the heav'nly things
That guide our path, "the Way, the Truth, the Life."

The silver-purple shadows on the hills
THat far across the landscape's smiling face
Raise lofty heads, the streams and lakes and deep
Cool valleys tinged with phantom mist, like grace
Are calling us, and we must go, 'tis true,
Yet strangely hard it is to part from you,
To leave your tower-crowned hill, beloved place.

Old memories of ours return again,
And with them many dreams both sad and sweet
Of our four years; the sorrows, the delights
That here have made our college life complete.
And more than this, ideals you have shown,
Have taught us, urged us on to make our own,
The finer things that make our lives replete.
Now we, your grateful children, bid farewell.
May you be proud of us in after years,—
See each of us victorius in the strife,
And loyal to your creed that time endears.
We bless your care as we your praises sing,
May you to others His sweet blessings bring
Who dwells with you,—Our Way, Our Truth, Our Life.

November 1968
Stripped
you're beginning to float free up through the smoke of brushfires and incinerators
the unleafed branches won't hold you nor the radar aerials

You're what the autumn knew would happen
after the last collapse of primary color
once the last absolutes were torn to pieces
you could begin

How you broke open, what sheathed you until this moment
I know nothing about it
my ignorance of you amazes me
now that I watch you starting to give yourself away
to the wind

Drop a pebble in the water,
And its ripples reach out far;
And the sunbeams dancing on them
May reflect them to a star.

Give a smile to someone passing,
Thereby making his morning glad;
It may greet you in the evening
When your own heart may be sad.

Do a deed of simple kindness;
Though its end you may not see,
It may reach, like widening ripples,
Down a long eternity.

Creed To Live By

Don't undermine your worth
by comparing yourself with others.
It is because we are different that each of us is special . . .
Don't let your life slip through your fingers
by living in the past or future.
By living your life one day at a time,
you live all the days of your life.
Don't give up when you still have something to give.
Nothing is really over . . .
until you stop trying . . .
Don't run through life so fast
That you forget not only where you've been but also where you're going.
Life is not a race,
but a journey to be savored
Each step of the way.

GLEE CLUB

In the depths of College Hall, you may encounter strange sounds such as "ch, puh, dooby, doo." These are the beginnings of the glorious sounds of the Regis College Glee Club. The Glee Club consists of 45 women interested in furthering their ability to express themselves through song. It is under the direction of Sheila Vogt and moderated by Sr. Margaret McCarthy. An elite group, composed of fourteen Glee Club members is known as the Chamber Singers. The Glee Club is responsible for enriching the lives of the Regis community by performing masses and concerts including the traditional Christmas Vespers. Achievements include the world premiere Peace Cantata, the Easter T.V. mass, and the Villanova tours. Thanks to Mrs. Vogt & Sr. Margaret and may the beat go on.

Kerry Pisani, President

The Student Government Association is comprised of five elected representatives from the freshman, sophomore, and junior classes, one commuter, and the four officers. SGA serves as a liason between students and administration in all areas of campus life. SGA is also responsible for allocating the comprehensive fee to all clubs and organizations based on a proposed budget for social, spiritual, and educational activities. Besides holding social events, SGA has completed a range of projects —having the lights in the library improved and installing a walkway in front of Angela are two which stemmed from students' concerns. We offered an American Sign Language Course and developed a student course evaluation booklet for the spring. These are but a few of our year's accomplishments.

TOWER SOCIETY

In the past year Tower Society has gone through a rebirth and a renewal of spirit and dedication. The society proudly named for the Tower continues to support the College through Admissions and campus activities, revised goals, and continued pride in the Regis community. Rebirth for Tower Society this year has signalled a new era of student involvement and contribution, and a return to the high ideals for which Regis was founded.

As admissions ambassadors, Tower Society members exemplify pride, leadership, dedication and service by sharing the Regis mission with others. Tower Society members have a lasting impact on the future of Regis by influencing the the decisions of prospective students to attend the College.

From The Editor

The time has finally come for our yearbook to be put to bed as they say in publishing. This is only one of the many things I have learned being the Editor In Chief of our class yearbook—the Regis Tower. I have had a taste of what life has in store for us: challenge, disappointment, frustration, pride, and gratification.

It does not take a genius to know that a lot of work goes into publishing a yearbook, but not many understand just how much time, energy, and all out sweat it truly takes until you've actually gone through it. One of our largest goals was to represent as many members of our class as possible, and I feel that we were successful.

There are so many people to thank for helping to make this volume possible. First of all, there are those who helped by watching our every step and keeping us on our toes. Second of all, there are those who offered us words of strength and encouragement to keep our spirits up when times were difficult. Last, there are those people who just plain worked their hearts out for this yearbook.

Thanks to Sister Therese, Lynn Coleman, and Dr. Young for their support in our endeavors. To John Neister, Janice Bigelow, Jostens Printing and Publishing, and Burlington Studios, a cliche but we could not have done it without you. A special thanks to Barbara Belamarich who went out of her way for us on many an occasion. To Jay, our archivist, who helped supply us with our Regis history, thank you for your time and enthusiasm. To Becky, Carla, Elizabeth, and Susan, your artwork is incredible! A mere thank you is not enough to say to Tammy Kopp who was Kim's righthand photographer—Tammy, you did a fabulous job to say the least. To all others who in whatever way contributed to our efforts—Thank You!!

Most of all, thank you to my staff— Anne-Marie, Mary, Maria, Michelle, Kim, Terri, Jo Ellen, Maureen, Sara, Beth, and Juli. You have been my sanity and my strength through all of this. We see this volume unlike anyone else because we created it and together we share the memories of a lifetime. When we look through the Regis Tower of 1989 in years to come for us it will be more than just a memento of four years at Regis College, it will be a symbol of the struggles and the good times we all shared putting each page together. Did we ever think we would finish?

To the Class of 1989 we thank you for giving us the chance to represent you. As your class mates and your friends, know that we did the absolute best that we could for you. We all wish you the best of luck in the future, and congratulate you on a job well done! As we leave Regis and become alum, know that although we will all go in our own directions, we will always have Regis, her memories, and yes our Tower to keep us together.

Best Wishes Always,
Karen A. Bochynski

Top L-R: Lisa Hudson, Katie Sheehan, Juli Larner, Jill Rynkowski, Co-Captains Stephanie Cunningham and Eileen Malone, Coach Sharon Barbano Bottom L-R: Meg Larkin, Melissa Cross, Lisa Lynch, Karen George Missing: MaryEllen O'Leary

With only two returning runners, the Regis Cross Country Team was in for many changes in '88. News travelled fast across the Regis campus about new cross country coach Sharon Barbano. Veteran co-captains, Stephanie Cunningham and Eileen Malone, were soon joined by nine new women: Mary Ellen O'Leary, Melissa Cross, Lisa Lynch, Meg Larkin, Katie Sheehan, Lisa Hudson, Jill Rynkowski, Juli Larner, and Karen George.

Coach Barbano whipped the team into shape with her enthusiasm and expertise. The team finished a strong second in the opening meet at our own Regis Invitational. The highlight of the season was the MAIAW State Championship. The team placed eighth out of eleven teams. Each runner set a personal record at this meet.

The cross country team looks forward to an even more successful season in '89!

CROSS COUNTRY

Top L-R: Coach Peter Counsell, Amy Fioretti, Moe Ryan, Beth Fioretti, Chris Whitman, Molly Musantee, Liz Dowling, Jodie Zinna, Tricia Sullivan, Kathleen McKeon, Asst. Coach Eileen Vogel Bottom L-R: Missy Greene, Jen Pauley, Chris Rowan, Tri-Captain Kathy Hennessy, Nicole Amnott, Tri-Captain Jen Oteri, Tri-Captain Sara Dwyer, Sharron Nugent

The 1988 Regis College Soccer Team began the season with convincing wins over Salve Regina, W.P.I., and Pine Manor, but suffered frustrating losses to Wellesley and Babson in overtime. The Babson game proved especially exciting as Jen Oteri scored two goals in the last ten minutes of the game to force the dramatic overtime period. The finest effort of the season was against Grinnell College, a team on tour in New England from Iowa. The game ended in a tie, but Regis felt victorious because of the quality of play they maintained.

Thanks go to Coach Peter Counsell and Assistant Coach Eileen Vogel for their help and dedication. The soccer team has a chance for a winning season next year if they remember to SAMBA, perfect their YOUNT TRAPS, and not give up any goals on corner kicks.

The Regis College Tennis Team once again had another successful season under the new coaching styles of Judy Mason. Senior and captain for the second year in a row Cathy Verderber finished her fall season with a record of 10-2.

Along with regular season matches, the team also competed in the MAIAW tournament held at W.P.I. and finished in third place. Nancy McSweeney won the state title at third singles. She had an undefeated season with with a record of 13-0.

The team finished the season by participating in the New England Championships held at Amherst College. In the second year of the team's participation in the N.E.C., they improved their last year's performance.

The Tennis Team had a fantastic season and is eagerly awaiting next year's competition.

Top L-R: Coach Mehran Vadji, Mona Connelly, Julie Cummings, Carla Diemens, Kathy Bouchard, Patty Lyons, Stacy Erickson Bottom L-R: Co-Captains Marie Mancuso, Suzanne Elliot Missing: Erin O'Connell

The 1988 season proved to be a successful period for the Regis volleyball team. Under the enthusiastic direction of coach Mehran Vajdi, and untiring efforts of co-captains Suzanne Elliot and Marie Mancuso, the team finished with a record of ten wins and ten losses.

The hard work of the previous building seasons enabled the volleyball team to reach their goal and participate in the state tournament. Through patience and determination, the athletes succeeded to the semi-finals, and placed third in Class C of the state tournament overall.

The Regis volleyball team looks forward to a winning season in 1989-90. The team would like to offer special thanks and gratitude to Mehran for his dedication and instruction which made our season a memorable one.

VOLLEYBALL

Kneeling L-R: Beth Cook, Michele Cedrone, Capt. Kim Malaspino, Capt. Nancy Gelineau, Gloria Gelineau, Kathy Thompson
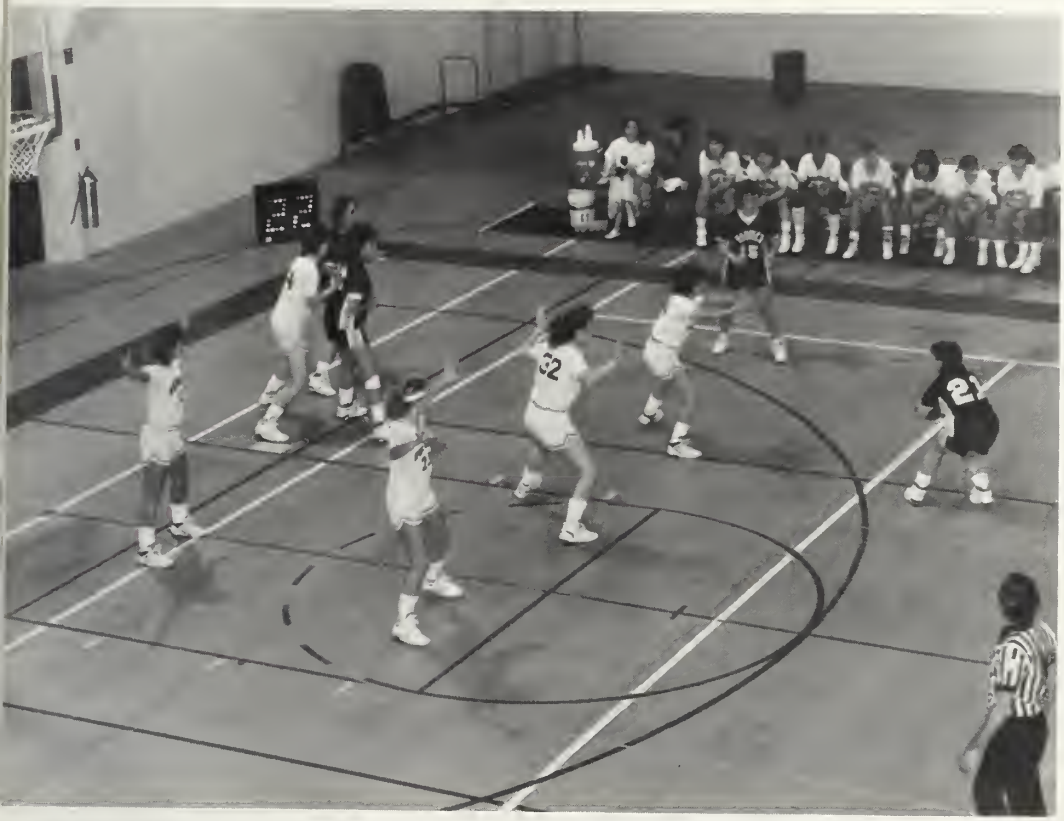
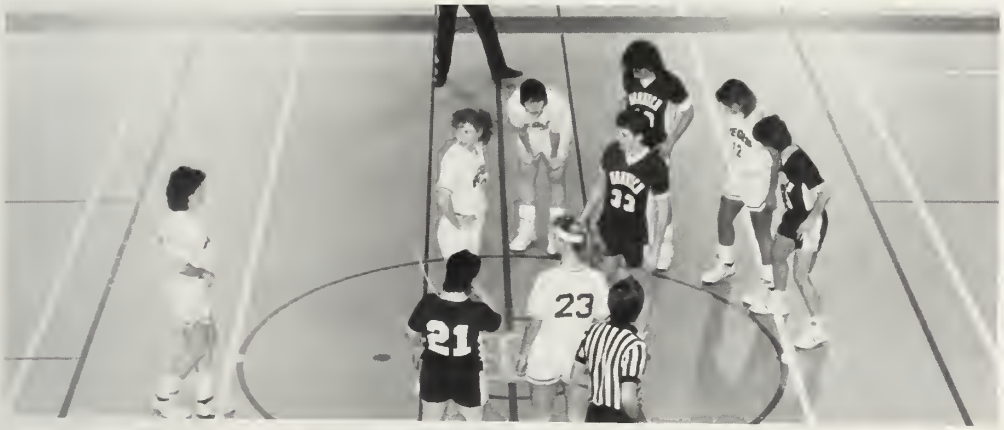
Missing: Olivia Springer, Martine Bastien

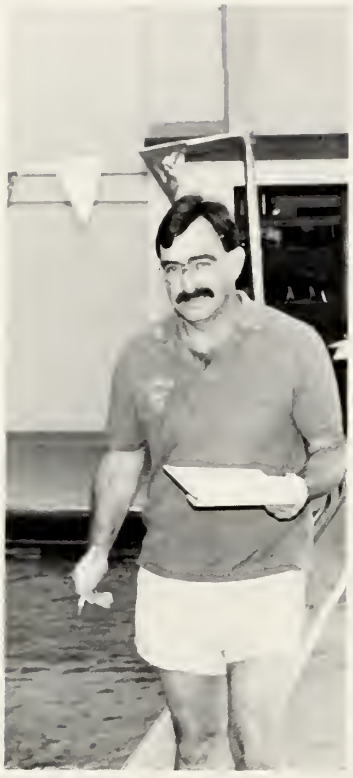
The Regis College Basketball team had another terrific season. The team practiced and played hard and defeated many teams they had never beaten in the past. The most exciting game of the season came in the first round of the annual Regis Tip-Off Tournament in which Regis came from behind to beat a more experienced Norwich team in the final seconds of the game. Senior Nancy Gelineau and Sophomore Melanie Thistle were named to the All-Tournament Team. The team thanks Coach Nancy Hogan for all her support during her three years at Regis and applauds her winning basketball tradition and revitalized, competitive program. The team also thanks first year Asst. Coach Keith Harvey for all his help and motivation. Though the team will miss its seniors, the returning players should make Regis the team to beat in 89-90. Remember, it's not over until the fat lady sings.

-Patty Adams, Kim Malaspino,
Nancy Gelineau, and Sara Dwyer
Captains, 1988-89

BASKETBALL







The Regis Swimming and Diving Team made a big splash in the 1988-1989 season. The ladies brought the team to an amazing 16-2 overall record, which placed the team 4th in dual meets, for New England Division III. Regis is the first, small school, to "break into" the top-five rank, with Tufts, Bowdoin and Williams as forerunners. An accomplishment well respected and deserved.

This year also establishes a winning four-year record of 50-7. This win-loss record sets a new high for the Regis Swimming and Diving Team, as well as the new records that were set in '88-'89, for all of the events. Coach Ray Harrington has only this to say about his girls: "Over the past four years, our program has become one of the strongest in Division III in New England. One of the main reasons why we have been so successful is due in part to our graduating seniors and the closeness of the entire team. The seniors have been the nucleus of our team for four years. Through their dedication, commitment, hard work and leadership abilities, the team has gone from a mediocre team to one of high quality." Congratulations on one terrific season!

EDUCATION

Regis offers its students a certificate in Elementary or Secondary Education. The Education department acquaints students with much more than lesson plans. Beginning with Educational Psychology and ending with an unforgettable semester in Philosophy of Education, these students develop the skills and strengths necessary to provide knowledge, guidance, and models for their own students. A full semester of student teaching incorporates hands-on experience, real live children or adolescents, and yes, waking to that pre-dawn alarm every Monday through Friday. However, the clear memories of one's first classroom will surely last forever. The education students have not only learned how to teach, but have been taught about themselves. Their pursuit is one of the most admirable. As Christa McAuliffe noted, "I touch the future. I teach."

THE ROAD NOT TAKEN

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

To Kim:

When you were little,
we were filled with joy
and our love grew

You played your violin with an air of accomplishment
and our love grew

You had your ups and downs with your sister and tested our patience
but still our love grew

You were like a mother to your two young brothers
and our love grew

You stood with your family
through a most difficult time
and our love grew

You have worked hard at Regis
you deserve the best,
Now we all stand proud as you graduate and our love still grows.

Congratulations!
